

Today you went to an interview
You were energetic but they rejected you
Employer said you aren't creative thinker
Not attentive and not a singer
You can prove him wrong
By listening to this song

Soft skills are great
They help you communicate
With them you'll never be alone
And you'll feel everywhere like home

Some time has passed
And you got better
You feel confident, so you send a letter
You wait for the answer form the boss
But the answer never comes

Soft skills are great
They help you communicate
With them you'll never be alone
And you'll feel everywhere like home
And if you're somehow feeling down
Come and sing this song out loud
Maybe you'll find some new friends
To this anthem for Soft Skills

And if you didn't get approved
There is no need to be in gloomy mood
And when you try again
Then in some employer's brain
You will be the one
So, come and sing this song!
